In Search of the Transfusion Trigger in Cardiac Patients: How low can we go?

Monday, May 13, 2024

5:30 – 6:30 pm EDT

IN-PERSON

CAB 1302, 125 Paterson St, New Brunswick, NJ 08901

Learning Objectives

At the conclusion of this activity, participants should be better able to:

1. To articulate the clinical trial evidence and latest guidelines on transfusion threshold in patients with and without cardiovascular disease
2. To articulate the results of the MINT trial
3. To articulate how to approach the interpretation of trials that have borderline statistically significant findings

Target Audience

This activity is designed for cardiologists, cardiovascular surgeons, internists, family practitioners, researchers, nurses, nurse practitioners, physician assistants, and other health care professionals who care for patients with cardiovascular disease.

Accreditation

In support of improving patient care, Rutgers Biomedical and Health Sciences is jointly accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME), the Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education (ACPE), and the American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC), to provide continuing education for the healthcare team.
