Overview
This activity will provide practicing clinicians with an update of the most recent advances in otolaryngology. Through lectures, case presentations, and question and answer periods, this symposium will provide an overview of the latest evidence, trends and innovations in the diagnosis and treatment of disorders of the voice and laryngology.

Learning Objectives
Upon completion of this activity, participants will be able to:
- Describe the current evidence-based clinical strategies and research findings in voice disorders and laryngology procedures
- Integrate the latest safety and efficacy of current and emerging treatment modalities in voice disorders
- Identify psychological, social, and functional concerns of patients with voice disorders
- Identify key assessment criteria for identifying patients who are suitable for office-based laryngology procedures
- Define and describe efficient office management techniques for handling office-based laryngology surgical procedures

Accreditation
In support of improving patient care, Rutgers Biomedical and Health Sciences is jointly accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME), the Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education (ACPE), and the American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC), to provide continuing education for the healthcare team.

Physicians: Rutgers Biomedical and Health Sciences designates this live activity for a maximum of 3.5 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

This course is offered for 0.35 ASHA CEUs (Intermediate level, Professional area).
