

July 10-14, 2023

Registration deadline: June 30, 2023

As the demand for health care continues to grow, so does the need for easily accessible, up-to-date evidence on best practices in health care. Systematic reviews are an important vehicle for addressing this need. Participants in the Summer Institute will gain a thorough understanding of the process and tools needed to undertake this important form of research and will work on developing an actual proposal.

Specialized Instruction. Small Groups.

This year's sessions will be held via videoconferencing and resource documents will be housed in the Rutgers Canvas Learning Platform. You will gain hands-on instruction and practice in using the JBI specialized software program called SUMARI (the System for the Unified Management, Assessment and Review of Information), which is designed to assist researchers and practitioners to conduct systematic reviews of 10 different types, including reviews of effectiveness, qualitative research, economic evaluations, prevalence/incidence, aetiology/risk, mixed methods, umbrella/overviews, text/opinion, diagnostic test accuracy and scoping reviews.

The 5-Day Track

July 10-14, 2023

9:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m. daily

This track is for individuals who are new to the comprehensive systematic review process and who wish to learn about the review and synthesis of both quantitative and qualitative evidence. Participants will gain a thorough understanding of the process and tools needed to undertake this important form of research.

- During the session, complete a structured plan to create your own systematic review proposal.
- 30 contact hours provided with JBI certification upon successful completion of chosen course or module of study.
- A systematic review consult service is available for an additional fee for those interested in advancing their systematic review project beyond the institute.

The 3-Day Quantitative Track

Jul 10, 13 & 14, 2023 - 9:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m. daily

The 3-Day Qualitative Track

July 10-12, 2023 - 9:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m. daily

The 3-day sessions are for individuals who are interested only in the review and synthesis of either quantitative evidence or qualitative evidence (but not both). This option is available for those who wish to learn the skills for reviewing only one of these two types of evidence.

1-Day Track

July 10, 2023 - 9:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m.

This track is for individuals who are interested only in learning about the basics of systematic reviews and evidence synthesis (i.e. designing a focused clinical question, searching the literature, developing a proposal). The review and synthesis of quantitative and qualitative evidence are not covered in this track.

All times are in eastern US, daylight savings time (UTC/GMT -4).
